- Day 91—Judges 9-10, Matthew 1-4

Knowing What You Have When You Have It

This past Sunday, I did something I had never done before. I preached to an empty auditorium. Everyone else was at home, isolating themselves. As I walked into the auditorium, it wasn't the same. There were just so many things missing.

I Missed:

- The constant buzz of fellowshiping before and after the services
- Shaking hands, hugging each other, and high fiving
- The smiles and encouraging words
- The banter that goes on between us
- Looking into the faces of people that you know would do anything for you
- Children holding out their hands or giving me a pitiful look for some "preacher gum"
- Babies crying
- Communion together
- Praying for the sick together
- Praising God together in song
- And yes, even those who are willing to point out my misspelled words on the Power Point or my grammatical mistakes!

In times like these, we are reminded of what we had when we had it. It is so easy to take what we have in Christ Jesus for granted. Something tells me that when we can be back at worship together, it is going to be something very special!

Barrier's Blog

In Romans 12:2 the Bible says...

"And do not be conformed to this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your mind, that you may prove what is that good and acceptable and perfect will of God."

Just like in last weeks blog I think we can get five really good thoughts out of this verse:

1. Conform to a Christ centered POV. *Because of this we...
2. Have a new way of thinking.
3. Test things by God's Word. *Because of this...
4. You know God's will for you. *When you know this, you are...
5. Focused (Doing the things that are good and acceptable to God)

In Him, Todd
