- Practice recommended social distancing, at least six feet between people of different households, to the greatest extent possible.

WHILE IN THE AUDITORIUM:

- You will find pews that have tape on them. You are not to sit in these pews. Two rows will be left empty between each occupied row. Family members may sit together, (We encourage families to sit together) as long as there is a six-foot separation on either side of the family.

- There will be no "Meet and Greet" at the beginning of the service.
- Be mindful of your children and keep them in the auditorium.
- The Lord's Supper will be observed at the conclusion of the sermon.

Barrier's Blog

Finally! We are, albeit very differently than before, able to worship together again! It's been 2 months since we were all able to be in the same building, this is going to be so awesome come Sunday! Many of us have been craving this since the beginning of the pandemic. While home worship has been a blessing, it just hasn't been the same. I think I have worshipped in my pajamas many times, ha! As we get ready to come back together, let's ask ourselves a question. Are you ready? Are we ready to get in that frame of mind that may have been a little relaxed at home? There are some things for us to remember about worship (wherever we are worshipping from), here are some things to think about:

We must have an attitude of gratitude (James 1:17) about worship, not everyone around the world is able to worship as freely as us. To have this attitude we must have an attitude of recognition. What does that mean? Well, there are some things we must recognize about God to be able to be grateful in worship. First thing we should remember is how unworthy (Psalm 51:1-4) we are, yet we have a God who wants and allows us to worship Him! We should recognize God's power (Job 26:14) and that we are worshipping the almighty! We should recognize His holiness (Isa. 6:3) and give reverence to it during worship. God's mercy should be something we recognize as well (John 3:16), this mercy is why we are able to worship Him. Finally, we should recognize the seriousness of worship. Worshipping Him is the most serious thing we do. Someone who recognizes the seriousness of God will also recognize His mercy, His holiness, His power and our unworthiness. All of this will lead to an attitude of gratitude. We will get more out of worship than ever before because we are putting more into it! So, as we gather together again, are you ready? We can't wait to see you Sunday!

In Him, Todd
