Barrier's Blog

This summer as well as this fall during the pandemic/lockdown I was doing weekly video devo's for our youth group. They were called 5X5 Devo's, where I would have a Bible verse or set of verses and break them down into 5 points in 5 minutes or less. It was a good way to stay connected to each other and study the Bible during that difficult time. Things still aren't completely back to normal and could go back to a more difficult time at any moment.

In those times during the lockdown and possibly looking into the future, what did you do to stay connected to your congregation and the Bible. Did you watch livestream videos? Did you attend Zoom classes? Did you meet with other Christians while social distancing and studying together? Whatever the situation is now or will be in the future we need to make sure we stay connected to the Bible. Personal study is one of the best ways because we can do it at any time.

The Bible tells us to grow in the grace and knowledge of Jesus (2 Peter 3:18). Whenever we are separated from our spiritual family it is important to take advantage of the opportunities to stay connected to them as well. The Bible instructs us not to take that for granted (Hebrews 10:25). Whether it's Bible study alone or with others, or time together for edification and fellowship we should be looking for and craving the opportunities to stay connected to God's Word and His people.

Are you connected?

In Him, Todd

All Sunday Night Bible Classes continue by Livestream or ZOOM Meetings at this time.
Hopefully, we can resume meeting on Sunday afternoons in October.
