There's A Sweet, Sweet Spirit In This Place

There's no experience quite like moving. Five weeks ago Savannah and I were packing up our house in Gadsden and getting ready to make the big move to Hartselle. After a few hours of loading we were finally ready to leave. Mark Reynolds had told me there would be a few men to help us unload once we got into town, so I let him know we were on our way. It had been a long day and the thought of driving 1.5 hours and unloading everything was already starting to feel like a daunting task.

As I pulled the U-Haul truck onto Autumn Lane toward our rental house I was surprised to see so many people in the street and that I was interrupting a neighborhood block party. However, I quickly realized as I saw Marshall Reynolds sitting on the curb holding a box of pizza that this was actually a welcoming party. At least 30 members from Hartselle, young and old, were standing on the sidewalks ready to help us unload our truck. What took 3 hours to pack took 20 minutes to unload. It was a great relief on a stressful day and we were blown away by how the church showed up for us.

Savannah and I have now been in Hartselle for a month and if there is one word that we could use to describe how we feel so far it would be, "blessed." The night where so many showed up to help us unload was only the beginning of many great moments to come where members from Hartselle have shown us love.

There's a gospel song called, "There's A Sweet, Sweet Spirit In This Place" and that it was we feel at Hartselle. The Lord has blessed this congregation with a spirit of love and we feel extremely blessed to be a part of it. Thank you to everyone who has gone out of their way to make us feel special and welcomed. We are looking forward to continuing in this spirit and serving the Lord with you all!

Barrier's Blog

In Aesop's Fables there is a story about a wise farmer and his sons. The farmer's family was very quarrelsome and it drove him crazy. It seemed that his two sons were the ringleaders of the problems within the family.

One day he brought them both to his room and presented to them many sticks that he had bundled together. He asked the two sons to break the sticks in half. Unable to do so the father untied the sticks and asked them to break the sticks one by one. They were easily able to do this. The father explained that when we are united our enemies cannot break us but when we are separated we can be destroyed.

The application was that in union there is strength. There is wisdom in this story for the Christian. When we are "quarreling" with God over His Word verses our desires, it leaves an opening for the enemy. However, when we study, take to heart and live out His Word we are united with Him and His church and the enemy cannot knock us down. In 1 Corinthians. 6:17 the Bible says...

But he who is joined to the Lord becomes one spirit with Him.
Are you United with Christ?
