Vacation Bible School

There are many ways to measure the success of a Vacation Bible School – overall attendance, visitor attendance, different age group representation, Bible knowledge gained, amount of twinkies consumed, etc. By all these measures our VBS was a huge success. However, my favorite gauge of a successful VBS is congregational participation, and I must say that I was blown away this year! The number of teachers, guides, and volunteers was outstanding. We had a great number of adults/teens who helped in decorating, classes, crafts, skits, preparing meals, clean up, security, and more. Not to mention the great turn out we had each night for our adult class. One speaker complimented our adults to me saying they were a fantastic and lively audience.

This was a special VBS, and it's because of YOU that it is such a good week. Thank you! I know the Lord's kingdom was blessed through our collective efforts. Plans are being made for next year, and I hope like me that you are already looking forward to it.

South Alabama Mission Trip

We had a group of about 25 in South Alabama this past weekend, and as I understand it the trip was very productive! Thank you to each person who volunteered their time and skills to make this trip happen. Frank and Telula head this mission up each year, and I appreciate their hard work. They both have wonderful hearts for ministry, and we are extremely blessed to have them in our congregation. I saw some great pictures online of a puppet team, crafts, silly songs, and Bible classes. This fruitful work is worth supporting!

A Summer of Signs

Our Summer of Signs series is off to a great start! I am so thankful that our elders had the wisdom to design our summer around this theme and our guest speakers. We've already been blessed with two great speakers teaching on the miracles of Jesus. Tonight, we will have our second round table discussion for our adults from Luke 5 and the miracle of the fishes. I truly enjoy these round table discussions. Each week it is such a pleasure to hear and learn from different members of the congregation.

Sunday night our guest speaker will be Steve Smith from the Beltline congregation in Decatur. I've enjoyed getting to know Steve, and I know he will do a great job for us. His topic is Jesus and The Faith of the Centurion found in Matthew 8. You will not want to miss it!
