Vol. 26 • No.32 8-9-26

It's hard to believe another school year has already arrived. It seems like just yesterday summer was beginning, and now backpacks are packed, classrooms are ready, and many of our families are settling back into familiar routines. A new school year always brings excitement and opportunity, but it can also bring challenges, uncertainty, and long days for students, teachers, and parents alike.

As a church family, one of the greatest gifts we can give is our prayers. Today we'll be praying for our students, teachers, administrators, school employees, and parents as they begin this new year. We want them to know they do not face the months ahead alone. God is with them, and their church family is standing beside them, encouraging them and lifting them up before the Lord.

We're also thankful that our youth minister, Michael Deese, will be preaching this morning. Michael has a genuine love for our young people and faithfully points them to Christ week after week. I know you'll be encouraged by the message God has placed on his heart.

As we worship today, let's remember that investing in the next generation is not just the responsibility of parents or teachers, but it belongs to the whole church. May God give our students courage, our teachers wisdom, and all of us a renewed commitment to encourage the young people He has entrusted to our care. We're excited to see what He will do in the year ahead.
